INTRODUCTION

The earlier parts of this series of marriage bonds can be found in volumes 74, 75, 80, 81 and 83, covering the period 1648 to 1738.

In the preface to volume 74, to which reference should be made for the early history of these bonds, it is stated "in 1847 the surviving bonds . . . for the remaining deaneries of Lonsdale, Amounderness, Kendal, Furness and Copeland being handed over to the care of the Bishop of Manchester by whose registrar they are now stored at Lancaster." It is worth recording that the Lancaster custodian was Mr. John Sharp, at one time a registrar of the Richmond Archdeaconry. On his death in 1879, the registrar of the Diocese of Manchester asked Mr. Sharp, junior, and later, Mr. W. H. Satterthwaite to retain the documents. Thus Mr. W. H. Satterthwaite stored the bonds in the attics of his offices in Cable Street, Lancaster. In the Autumn of 1946 they were transferred to the Lancashire Record Office, Preston. Here they have been unfolded and made up into annual parcels; they are readily available to the enquirer. As a result of this change, the title of this series "Lancaster Marriage Bonds" is now a misnomer, Richmond Marriage Bonds would be more correct.

A few bonds for 1735 were found in the bundle for 1745. These were not recorded in volume 83, so they are included in this volume.

All the bonds covered by this volume (with a few exceptions where the official ran out of supplies and wrote them out by hand) are on printed forms, without the printed endorsement noting the oath taken by the bondsman. The bridegroom was a bondsman in all cases except where noted. On three occasions a woman was a bondsman—see bonds dated 17 Feb. 1742/3, 7 May 1743 and 10 May 1743 (No. 2)—and in the last case, the bride herself was the bondsman, while the groom was not bound.

In the case of minors, a licence could not be issued unless the parent's or guardian's consent had been obtained. Two original letters giving this consent are preserved with the bonds (dated 27 Sep. 1740 and 16 Sep. 1742) and have been transcribed in toto.

Two prospective bridegrooms are noted as Quakers, making affirmation instead of taking the oath. (17 Feb. 1735/6 and 4 July 1743, No. 3).

One bond, included under 7 January 1740/1 (No. 2) is certainly out of place. It bears the printed endorsement, which was not in general use before 1747. The official making out the document had been careless and had not filled in the year after the printed words "one thousand seven hundred and forty . . .", either in the obligation or the endorsement.

To economise space and minimise the present high cost of printing, a number of abbreviations have been used (see list on page viii), the word of has been omitted before place names and replaced by a comma, and the words parish of have been omitted. Thus the second place name is usually the name of the parish. The conditions bachelor and spinster have been omitted (and may be assumed unless otherwise noted, although not stated invariably in the original). Finally the witnesses to each document are not included; instead an alphabetical list of all witnesses, with the first and last date of their occurrence, is given at the end of the volume. Many of these witnesses are surrogates, commissioners, notaries public, etc., and occur repeatedly.

It should be noted that "in the parish church or in the old (new) chapel of Whitehaven" have been given as "At Whitehaven." Reference may be necessary to the parish church of St. Bees in addition to the two Whitehaven churches.

Any editorial additions are printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets.

Thanks are due to Mr. R. Sharpe France, F.R.Hist.S., the archivist of the Lancashire Record Office, Preston, for assistance with a few difficult readings and for the identification of some of the place names.

LIST OF WITNESSES

In order to identify the actual bond in which the name occurs, it has been necessary to indicate, in the case where several bonds have the same date, which is the correct one. This has been done by adding the number of the bond in parenthesis immediately after the date. Two dates separated by a hyphen indicate the first and last date at which the name occurs in the period covered by this volume.
